3rd Sunday of Easter

We envision a church where Jesus Christ is proclaimed in a way that when parishioners are gathered, all may encounter the Living Word in their midst.

Vatican News Resources: A Universal Perspective

by Msgr. Marion Makarewicz

During my five years in Rome, I experienced firsthand one of the creedal hallmarks of the Catholic Church: universality. The primary experience of that was meeting students and professors from all over the world who attended my university. But it was listening to Vatican Radio and reading L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper introduced me to the reality of the Catholic Church in all its rich diversity but unified faith. My love for the Church grew in the measure I got to know the members of the Body of Christ throughout the world.

That first Christmas when I served for Saint Pope John Paul II at Midnight Mass, I was introduced to Archbishop John Foley, who at that time was named as the director of communications for the Catholic Church. He was that voice for so many years you heard narrating the Midnight Mass television broadcast throughout the world. Eventually he was named a Cardinal and he served many years directing communication for the Church. He was instrumental in moving the model of communication from simple announcements of papal appointments and church documents to a robust ministry of evangelization.

In Easter time we are reading from the Acts of the Apostles. You can say that this is the record of the news of the early Church. In fact, Luke begins both his Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles explaining the reason he was writing these documents: to share the good news. We use the old English word "gospel" to describe what he was doing, and I think we often miss the underlying divine and human realities of what Christ and the Church did at the beginning. Call it either Gospel or evangelization, what is happening is the action of God and His People in a particular place and time. Of course there is a categorical distinction between the Sacred Scriptures and Catholic Missourian; nevertheless, each is spreading the news about Jesus Christ in its own unique and necessary way.

Today, the easiest portal for learning about the Church throughout the world, and how God is still visiting his people, is the Vatican News web site. It is the news site I visit before all others each day. Instead of reading commentaries about the Holy father, or listening to people talk "about" the Church, I read and hear Pope Francis's actual words. I learn about the amazing and wonderful work of the Church throughout the world in being the compassionate face of Christ. Reading

Chair: Mike Henze

Bookkeeping Terms Explained:

Thanks to our amazing parish-ioners, the contributions and donations keep coming to help support the ministries of the church. I thought that I would explain some of the terms that we use to define the various forms of donations.

In our weekly parish collection corner we use Envelope & Loose. Categorized under Envelope are all contributions taken in from active parishioners during the week. Obviously it is included if it comes in an envelope or designated a recurring contribution online, but it also is included if it is a loose check or online donation under $1000 that has not been designated toward a specific purpose. Active parish-ioners are those who have chosen to designate Our Lady of the Lake their home parish.

Loose includes anything that comes loose in the collection basket and checks and online donations from our visitors and part-timers whose home parish is elsewhere.

Any check or online amount over $1000 not designated to a specific purpose is considered a donation and is not included in the Envelopes. We have received some of these recently and are extremely grateful for your generosity.

I want to thank all those who are continuing to send contributions and donations. Seeing your names make me smile, and I can't wait to see you all in person again soon.

God Bless & Keep You ~ Kelly

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil; May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; And do thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host, by the divine power of God, thrust into hell Satan and all evil spirits who wander through the world for the ruin of souls. Amen

During this time of social distancing and sheltering in place, we can come together spiritually through prayer.

Let us join together in praying the rosary in our homes at our regular 8:45 AM time for all special intentions we have for our family, friends, our church, our community, our nation, and the world that all are protected from the affects of the Coronavirus Pandemic.

NOTES FROM VICKI

Jesus and the two disciples On the Road to Emmaus, by Duccio, 1308-1311, Museo dell'Opera del Duomo, Siena.

During all of history, God has been trying to tame us skittish, mistrusting folks into total and complete trust in Him. Why do we resist such a magnanimous effort; selfless and loving by the very person who created us. In this week's gospel we hear about the road to Emmaus, and Christ revealing himself to His disciples only after spending an afternoon traveling with them. The bible says, 'their eyes were closed' and unable to recognize Jesus until he broke bread at supper later in the day, and then ascended to Heaven with God. How sad and bewildered they must have felt to realize they had been in His presence all day long and now he was gone; how many questions were burning in their hearts? We aren't sure how much time Jesus spent after revealing Himself, but I know my heart would have been broken to lose Him again.

This image is a paradigm, or school of thought, encompassing our ecclesiology. We hear the Word, and we reflect on the meaning or application of the teachings in our own lives. The undeniable Holy Trinity made up of God the Father, Christ the Son, and the entity that encompasses their love, wisdom and mercy is there for the taking. The next step is to absorb and explore the information, where it now becomes personal, internalizing a capsule of thought. As those personal experiences increase, we are compelled to talk about the wondrous results! We are now evangelizing the truth we have experienced first-hand, all of which originated from His Word.

While we are all distancing from each other, we are given the perfect time to ask for a personal experience with the Holy Spirit. It is also the perfect time to help your children cope with the 'new normal' and model how to ask for faith and strength. Alone, or as a family, read today's gospel Luke 24:13-35, while you are alone and quiet. Ask yourself what may be clouding your mind from seeing Him? (If His disciples can be blind, so can we) "Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal among you, which comes upon you for your testing, as though some strange thing were happening to you." (1 Peter 4:12). When we are in a trial, it seems like it will never end, But God is a God of all time; He knows exactly how long our trials will last and how much strength we need to get through them. Ask right now for the strength and wisdom it will take to get you and your family to a good place together, strong and at peace.

As always, I pray for many blessings and prayers for your family! Vicki

DEACON'S CORNER

In last Sunday's second reading from IPeter 1:3-9, it states "to attain the goal of your faith, the salvation of your souls". These are words that come down to the nitty gritty of one's faith - the salvation of your souls. But not only salvation of one's own soul but Christ asks us throughout his gospels to be disciples and go out and spread the Good News so we can assist others to the salvation of their souls.

This can be in several different venues. During these days when we are homebound, you may be thinking "How can I be a disciple now? I don't see anyone but those in my household." But there are several ways where you still can do disciple work.

If you are married, your first responsibility is to help attain salvation for your spouse. So, this is one very important way to be a disciple. During these days of homebound, many couples are together now more than they ever have been in their married life. This takes patience. We need to be patient and Christ like to our spouses. The definition of Christian is Christ-like. Being patient and truly empathetic toward your spouse will help you and your spouse endure these days of stay at home and help each other attain the goal of our faith - salvation.

Throughout this home bound time, some may also have more time with their children - of all ages. This is a prime time to be a disciple to them. Perhaps prior to all being homebound, you could not go to daily mass. Daily mass is streamed and you can attend mass with your family and listen to the good news of the Lord together. Depending on the ages of the children, you could delve deeper into the Word and have small bible studies with your family. Or if your children are too young, you could always open the bible, read and answer any questions which may come up. There will be questions. This inquisitiveness could help with the baptismal flame in your child's soul.

Also this homebound time may give us more time on our hands. Be it if we are a family of two, five, eight or one in the household. All of us can be Christ like to others. This is the number one way of being a disciple and helping others attain salvation. We all know of those out there who perhaps are going through a difficult time due to this pandemic. Some are going through emotional loneliness. Now that we have more time to be Christ like and bring peace to these people's life and mind. It is an ideal time to pick up the phone and call this person or write this person a note and have them be able to get a note from you. Showing them that, yes, they are remembered and you care. This will put Christ in their lives and you can be a big part of doing that.

There are those in the area who are struggling financially. These may find it difficult to see Christ in their lives. What a great way for one to be Christ like. Make a donation to The Hope House or Helping Hands. They may not see you doing it but they will know that there are people who are Christ like and care. And make them realize that Christ is alive and lead them to the path of Salvation.

So, yes we are isolated. But we still can be disciples and we can still help others and ourselves attain the goal of our faith - Salvation.

Blessings, Deacon Jim

Inmaculado Corazón de María, nos confiamos a ti, Salud de los Enfermos.

Al pie de la cruz, participaste en el dolor de Jesús, con fe firme.

Patrona de la Diócesis de Jefferson City, sabes lo que necesitamos.

Estamos seguros del poder de su intercesión, de modo que, como lo hizo en Caná de Galilea, la alegría y el banquete podrían regresar después de este momento de prueba.

Ayúdanos, Madre del Amor Divino, a conformarnos a la voluntad del Padre y a hacer lo que Jesús nos dice.

El que nos enseñó a “amarnos los unos a los otros, como yo los he amado a ustedes”, tomó nuestros sufrimientos sobre Sí mismo y cargó con nuestras penas para llevarnos, a través de la Cruz, al gozo de la Resurrección.

Traiga bajo su manto de protección a todos los que atienden a los enfermos y atienden a sus necesidades, ya que su Hijo nos implora que hagamos el uno por el otro.

V. Buscamos refugio bajo tu protección, oh Santa Madre de Dios.

R. No desprecies nuestras súplicas y líbranos de todo peligro, oh gloriosa y bendita Virgen. Amén.

about the particular challenges that Catholics in Africa face in living out their faith inspires me to greater fidelity to my vocation as a priest and as a Catholic. When I pray for the Church throughout the world, in my mind I see the faces of people whose stories I have read or heard. The Vatican News site gives me perspective on our own parish because I can see how others are responding to the same challenges we face or facing challenges we never would dream of encountering.

The website isn't just news. It is also a source to link to the many resources the Church has to offer. While w2.vatican.va focuses primarily on the teaching ministry of the Church, Vatican News guides you to the not only the textual resources but the rich variety of other media, especially video and audio, which form part of the modern evangelization.

I would like to highlight two resources that I recently encountered on the Vatican News site. First is the new collection of prayers, rituals and reflections that have been gathered to guide the Church during the pandemic. I am reminded that the Church has been through countless plagues and disasters through the centuries. There is great wisdom in the prayer and ritual, the music and the stories that come forth in time of need. Strong in the Face of Tribulation. The complete book is a free PDF to download. I especially welcome the beautiful litany that is included which Pope Francis prayed on the fifth Friday of Lent at the prayer service and special blessing to the city and to the world for protection from the corona virus.

Among the many links that the Vatican News site provides are links to the streams of the papal liturgies. Being able to listen to Pope Francis's homilies each day as he celebrates daily mass reminds me of the great gift we share in the priesthood. My image of the Pope growing up was that of a far off person, removed from the daily concerns of the average person. My years in Rome helped to make the pope a bit more accessible to my everyday experience, especially as Saint Pope John Paul was such a warm and friendly person. But it is watching Pope Francis celebrate the daily mass, yes as the supreme pontiff, but also as a priest who is trying to shepherd his flock through very difficult times, that strengthens me so much in my own vocation.
